

2018 DeFever 52 Euro

Boat Type: Trawler

Address: Portsmouth, RI, US

Price: Upon Request

OVERVIEW

Seldom has a yacht been designed with almost as much living area on the outside as in. Both the forward and aft decks are generously proportioned, and the aft deck can even become an extension of the salon when enclosed with canvas curtains for protection from the elements.

In all, the 52 Euro is built to endure. It's another quality offshore cruiser in the DeFever line, where the name says it all.

DESCRIPTIONS

Accommodations

Rich hand rubbed teak cabin soles, paneling and cabinetry are featured throughout. The salon is bright and airy with an open floor plan that gives owners the freedom to arrange their selected furniture and entertainment components, or to design built-ins to suit their needs.

Stairs lead from the galley to the spacious master stateroom located amidships. Classic cabinetry, louvered hanging lockers, and mirrored vanity accent the walk-around queen bed with drawer storage below. The ensuite head features VacuFlush toilet and large separate shower stall. All counter tops are granite. A watertight door grants entrance to the engine room. 5"6" headroom and maneuverability improve access and maintenance to all systems.

The forward accommodations may be entered from the master stateroom or by stairs leading from the pilothouse. To port is the guest head with Vacuflush toilet and handheld shower wand. To starboard is storage that may be fitted with full size stackable washer and dryer. The guest stateroom forward may be configured with a traditional V-berth and filler.

The pilothouse fulfills the promise of comfort at sea. Visibility is excellent ahead and abeam. Access to port and starboard side decks and the flybridge is provided, while spiral stairs lead to accommodations below. A raised L-shaped settee with drop-leaf table doubles as a convenient watch berth and appealing retreat for casual dining. The instrument console is efficient and well-appointed to accept the owners' choice of electronics with ample space for a fixed helm seat. Built to endure, this impressive off-shore cruiser successfully blends comfort and purpose.
